In re: Estate of Lou Anna Lawhorn

Dear [REDACTED]:

I am enclosing a copy of Eddie Lawhorn's February 28, 1992 letter with enclosures which comments on the amended inventory filed by Freddie Lawhorn and [REDACTED].

I reviewed your March 16, 1992 letter and its enclosure. I have forwarded it on to Eddie Lawhorn for his consideration. I have comments and questions about the accounting. I will discuss each separately.

1. CD Pledged on Fred's House. Fred's accounting takes a deduction for that CD. I do not believe such a deduction is appropriate. There is no basis I am aware of for treating that $10,000 as a specific gift to Freddie. I believe that $10,000 should be part of the total funds subject to division.

2. Moneys Eddie Distributed to Himself. Fred claims a deduction of $8,875.07 for amounts Eddie allegedly distributed to himself. We need the detail of the dates and amounts Freddie is including in this calculation.

3. Moneys Eddie Collected from [REDACTED] Note. Again, as with Item 2, we would request detail of the date and amounts Freddie claims should be applied as deductions to the amount owed Eddie.

I have asked Eddie to make a detailed analysis of the total estate less the total expenses and to divide the balance and show credit for any amounts he has received either from the estate or from direct distributions to himself so we can try to determine a bottom line figure for discussions. Hopefully, when we get the responses to these last questions, we may be able to settle the controversy.

Very truly yours,
